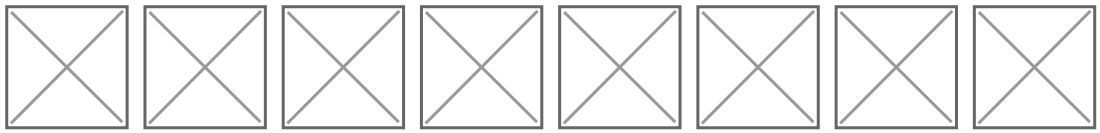
Combating offenses against the environment - the subject of a study visit of IGP representatives in Verona, Italy.

representatives of the General Police Inspectorate were trained in the field of combating the offenses against the environment, during a study visit in the city of Verona in Italy.

the activities took place within the European project "Perivallon". bring the following benefits:

-to fight the environmental crime;

-to develop the operational capabilities of the police by developing modern technologies; EU member members. investigarea infracțiunilor care afectează mediul înconjurător.


11 aprilie 2025